

Communion Assistant Team

What's involved?

Assisting in distributing the bread and wine at communion services.

What kind of person is needed?

Confirmed members of the church, with a steady hand and an appreciation of the importance of communion to people's faith.

What's the commitment?

There are separate teams for the morning, evening and Wednesday lunchtime services. Some people are on both teams, but most are either on the morning or evening team. Members of the teams are on duty about once a month and are expected to be at church 20 minutes before the start of Sunday services to join in praying for the service.

What training is available?

Prior to the first time you assist with communion, the process will be run through with you, and you will be given the opportunity to practice.

Who should I speak to? Rev'd Tim Carter tim@allsaints-wellington.org

